1 TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:
 2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT on January 13, 2020 at 9:00 a.m., or as soon
 3 thereafter as the matter may be heard, in Courtroom 850 of the above-captioned court, 4 located at 255 East Temple Street, Los Angeles, California 90012, Defendants
 5 COUNTY OF RIVERSIDE, RIVERSIDE COUNTY SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT
 6 ("RCSD") (collectively "County"), CORPORAL LUIS IBARRA, DEPUTY NIGEL 7 HINSON, DEPUTY MATT BILTON, DEPUTY ANTHONY LEVESQUE, DEPUTY 8 LORENA MIRANDA, DEPUTY ANDREW PEARSON, and DEPUTY JOSEPH 9 RODRIGUEZ, will move for summary judgment or, in the alternative, for summary 10 adjudication of issues on the First Amended Complaint on the grounds set forth below.

11 OPERATIVE CLAIMS:

12 The operative complaint is the First Amended Complaint. (Doc. 28) The 13 operative claims are: the first federal claim under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 for excessive force
 14 against Defendants Ibarra, Hinson, Bilton, Levesque, Miranda, Pearson and Rodriguez
 15 (collectively "individual defendants"); the second federal Monell claim – excessive 16 force – under for 42 U.S.C. § 1983 against the County of Riverside and Riverside 17 County Sheriff's Department (collectively "County defendants"); the third federal 18 Monell claim – failure to train, supervise, and discipline – under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 19 against County defendants; the fourth cause of action for negligence against all 20 defendants; the fifth cause of action for battery against all defendants; the sixth cause of 21 action for intentional infliction of emotional distress against all defendants; and the 22 seventh cause of action for violation of Cal. Civ. Code § 52.1 – Bane Act against all 23 defendants.

24 Defendants move for summary judgment and/or summary adjudication of all 25 claims.

26 1. As to federal claim one under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 for excessive force against 27 the individual defendants, the use of force by the deputies were objectively reasonable 28 under the totality of the circumstances and was applied in a good faith effort to 1 maintain or restore discipline and order of a prisoner, not maliciously or sadistically to 2 cause harm. Graham v. Connor, 490 U.S. 386 [109 S.Ct. 1865, 104 L.Ed.2d 443]

 3 (1989); Hudson v. McMillian, 503 U.S. 1, 6-7 [112 S.Ct. 995, 117 L.Ed.2d 156] (1992); 4 Kingsley v. Hendrickson, 576 U.S. ___, 135 S. Ct. 2466, 2473 (2015).

5 Even assuming, arguendo, that plaintiff could show a constitutional violation, the 6 defendants are entitled to qualified immunity. Saucier v. Katz, 533 U.S. 194, 200
 7 (2001); White v. Pauly, 137 S.Ct. 548, 552 (2017); S.B. v. County of San Diego, 2017
 8 U.S. App. LEXIS 8452 at *15 (9th Cir. 2017).

9 Additionally, plaintiff's claim against defendants Miranda, Levesque, Bilton, 10 Pearson and Rodriguez fail because plaintiff failed to exhaust his administrative 11 remedies against the aforementioned individual defendants as required by 42 U.S.C. § 12 1997e.

13 2. The second and third federal Monell claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 14 against the County fail as no underlying constitutional violation can be shown. City of 15 Los Angeles v. Heller, 475 U.S. 796, 799 (1986); Martinez v. County of Los Angeles, 47 16 Cal.App.4th 334, 349-350 (1996). Assuming arguendo that one can be shown, there is 17 no additional evidence of a pattern, practice or custom. Oklahoma v. Tuttle, 471 U.S.
 18 808, 824 (1985).

19 3. Plaintiff's redundant state law claims four, five, six and seven, for 20 negligence, battery, intentional infliction of emotional distress, and violation of Cal.
 21 Code § 52.1 – Bane Act, lack merit for the same reasons as the federal claims. Martinez
 22 v. County of Los Angeles, 47 Cal.App.4th 334, 349-350 (1996). All individual 23 defendants acted under law and within constitutional limits. The County is immune 24 from the state law claims. Gov. Code § 815.2.

25 Further, as to plaintiff's Bane Act claim, there is no evidence of threats, 26 intimidation or coercion by defendants.

27 4. The prayer for punitive damages lack merit because there is no evidence 28 that any of the defendants acted with malice, oppression, fraud, or reckless disregard

1 towards plaintiff. Where there is no evidence that a § 1983 defendant has acted with 2 evil intent, there is no legal right to punitive damages. Ward v. City of San Jose, 967
3 F.2d 280, 286 (9th Cir. 1991). There is no evidence that the individual defendants acted 4 with evil intent.

5 This motion is based on the attached memorandum of points and authorities, the 6 Separate Statement of Uncontested Facts, the Declarations of Attorney Michael 7 Watts; Sr. Corporal Ibarra; Correctional Deputy Nigel Hinson; Correctional Deputy 8 Matt Bilton; Correctional Deputy Anthony Levesque; Officer Lorena Miranda; 9 Correctional Deputy Andrew Pearson; Correctional Deputy Joseph Rodriguez; Nurse 10 Charlin Garcia; and Inv. Melissa Nieburger, the Request for Judicial notice and any 11 attached exhibits, all the pleadings, records, and files in this action, and upon such 12 further oral and documentary evidence as may be presented at the hearing of this 13 motion.

14 NOTICE ON CONFERENCE OF COUNSEL PER LOCAL RULE

15 This motion is being made following the conference of counsel pursuant to L.R.
16 7-3. On December 9, 2019, defense counsel sent plaintiff's counsel a detailed letter 17 stating the grounds for summary judgment. The parties engaged in a telephonic 18 conference to discuss the issues to be raised in the Motion for Summary Judgment. The 19 parties were unable to resolve the issues which necessitated the filing of this motion.

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 1. INTRODUCTION

3 This case arises from an incident that occurred on May 26, 2018, while plaintiff 4 was in custody at the Larry D. Smith Correctional Facility. Plaintiff claims that 5 defendants used excessive force against him and denied him medical care. All of 6 plaintiff's claims lack merit as the uncontested evidence shows that plaintiff was an 7 assaultive prisoner who engaged in active physical resistance to defendants' efforts to 8 restrain him and that the force used against him was objectively reasonable, and applied 9 in a good faith effort to maintain and restore discipline and order. Graham v. Connor, 10 490 U.S. 386 (1989); Hudson v. McMillian, 503 U.S. 1, 6-7 (1992); Kingsley v.
11 Hendrickson, 576 U.S. ___, 135 S. Ct. 2466, 2473 (2015).

12 On May 26, 2018, plaintiff was housed in Housing Unit 17, a state housing unit 13 for level 4 and 5 inmates. After lunch, the inmates in Housing Unit 17 were told to 14 return to their cells. Plaintiff did not return to his cell and remained in the dayroom to 15 clean. When defendant Ibarra told plaintiff he did not have cleaning privileges because 16 of his involvement in a prior disturbance, plaintiff responded with profanities and told 17 Ibarra to give him a better reason.

18 In the prior disturbance, plaintiff encouraged the entire Housing Unit 17, with 19 over 190 inmates, to refuse to return to their cells. To avoid a similar disturbance on the 20 date of the incident, Ibarra had plaintiff step out of the dayroom, so Ibarra could speak 21 to plaintiff without the view of the other inmates. After plaintiff stepped out of the 22 dayroom, he refused to follow routine procedures of placing his hands behind his back 23 and walking to the red line to be searched prior to speaking to staff. When defendants 24 Ibarra and Hinson attempted to place plaintiff against the wall, plaintiff physically 25 resisted by pushing his body away from the wall and pulling his arms away from Ibarra 26 and Hinson.

27 The uncontested evidence demonstrates that the force applied by defendants 28 was not excessive, but necessary to maintain and restore discipline and order during a

1 rapidly-evolving incident. Plaintiff physically fought the efforts of Ibarra and Hinson to 2 restrain him. Defendants Miranda, Bilton and Levesque responded to the scene and 3 observed plaintiff assaulting Ibarra and fighting with Hinson. It took the efforts of the 4 five deputies to finally take plaintiff to the ground. While on the ground, plaintiff 5 continued to physically resist the defendants' efforts to secure him in handcuffs. The 6 evidence does not show that defendants acted maliciously and sadistically for the 7 purpose of causing harm to plaintiff.

8 After plaintiff was placed in handcuffs, he was escorted to the Medical Office to 9 be evaluated. There is no evidence that plaintiff suffered serious physical injuries.
 10 Plaintiff fails to show how any of the actions taken were unlawful or unconstitutional.
 11 Summary judgment for all defendants on all claims is not only appropriate, but required 12 by law.

13 2. STATEMENT OF UNCONTROVERTED FACTS

14 A. Allen's Refusal To Return To Cell

15 On May 26, 2018, Plaintiff Jarrell Allen ("Allen") was in custody at Larry D.
 16 Smith Correctional Facility as a convicted offender, after a jury found him guilty of 17 felony offenses on January 2, 2018. [UF¹ 1] Plaintiff was housed in Dayroom D of 18 Housing Unit 17, which is a state level housing unit for level four and five inmates, 19 which are inmates who have a prior criminal history and have served four to six 20 cumulative years in State or County custody. [UF 2]

21 At about 12:40 p.m., the inmates in Housing Unit 17 finished eating their meals 22 and were instructed to return to their cells. Allen refused to return to his cell and 23 remained in the dayroom to clean. [UF 3] It is common practice in Housing Unit 17 that 24 three inmates from each dayroom are allowed to remain in the dayroom to clean, but 25 such practice is a privilege, which Allen was not allowed due to his involvement in a 26 prior disturbance. [UF 4]

27
 28¹ "UF" refers to Uncontroverted Fact.

1 Prior to May 26, 2018, Allen was involved in a prior incident, where he was the 2 main instigator of a dayroom disturbance. During the prior incident, Allen encouraged 3 the entire Housing Unit 17, which houses over 190 inmates, to refuse to return to their 4 cells. [UF 5]

5 Due to Allen's involvement in the prior disturbance, Defendant Sr. Corporal 6 Ibarra ("Ibarra") told Allen he could not remain in the dayroom to clean and that he 7 would need to return to his cell. [UF 6] Ibarra also ordered two other inmates to return 8 to their cells. The other two inmates complied, while Allen approached the housing unit 9 speaker and started using profanities, telling Ibarra he needed to give a better reason.
 10 [UF 7]

11 To avoid a disturbance like the previous one, Ibarra had Allen step out of the 12 dayroom so he could speak to Allen away from the view of the other inmates. Based on 13 Ibarra's experience, inmates tend to accept constructive criticism, more so, if they do 14 not have peer pressure from other inmates watching or listening. [UF 8]

15 B. Allen's Physical Resistance To Efforts To Restrain Him

16 As it is common practice to have two staff present while handling an inmate, 17 Ibarra and defendant Correctional Deputy Hinson ("Hinson") stepped out of the control 18 room and walked towards the sally port slider entrance to meet Allen. [UF 9] Allen 19 exited the dayroom and walked towards Ibarra and Hinson with his arms out to his 20 sides. [UF 10] It is routine procedure that when inmates step out of the dayroom, the 21 inmates place their hands behind their backs. It is construed as an act of open defiance 22 when inmates step out of the dayroom with their arms out to their sides. [UF 11]

23 For safety issues, Ibarra instructed Allen to place his hands behind his back. [UF 24 12] Allen did not comply and Ibarra again instructed Allen to place his hands behind 25 his back. [UF 13] After Allen hesitantly placed his hands behind his back, Ibarra 26 instructed Allen to walk towards the red line. The red line is a physical red line painted 27 on the floor and an area designated for inmates to stand and where staff can talk to the 28 inmates. It is routine procedure that when inmates step out of the dayroom and into the

1 hallway, the inmates stand in the red line area to be searched. [UF 14]

2 Allen started walking, but stopped and asked where he was going. Ibarra, again, 3 told Allen to keep walking to the red line. [UF 15] Allen remained still and did not 4 move. Hinson placed his hand on Allen's back to help guide Allen towards the wall and 5 conduct a pat search for contraband. [UF 16] Allen tensed his body and turned towards 6 Hinson in a manner that caused Ibarra and Hinson to believe Allen was going to assault
 7 them. [UF 17]

8 C. Deputies' Use Of Force To Stop The Threat Posed By Allen

9 Ibarra ordered Allen to stop resisting and face the wall. [UF 18] Allen refused by 10 trying to pull away from Hinson. [UF 19] To gain control of Allen's movements, Ibarra
 11 and Hinson attempted to push Allen against the wall. [UF 20] Allen pushed his body
 12 back and away from the wall. [UF 21] Allen pulled his arm from Ibarra's and Hinson's 13 hold. [UF 22] Ibarra and Hinson struggled to gain control of Allen as Allen moved 14 away from the wall with his arms free from Ibarra's and Hinson's hold. [UF 23]

15 Defendants Deputy Lorena Miranda ("Miranda"), Correctional Deputy Anthony 16 Levesque ("Levesque") and Correctional Deputy Matt Bilton ("Bilton") were in the 17 Housing Unit 16 hallway when they heard a noise from the Housing Unit 17 hallway.
 18 When they responded to the Housing Unit 17 hallway, Miranda, Levesque and Bilton 19 observed Allen with his hands on Ibarra while Hinson was trying to pull Allen away 20 from Ibarra. [UF 24] Miranda, Levesque and Bilton responded and assisted Ibarra and 21 Hinson in pulling Allen to the ground. [UF 25]

22 While on the ground, Allen was face down and had his arms tucked underneath 23 his body. [UF 26] Allen's arms under his body was a safety risk as he could have had a 24 weapon. [UF 27] Allen continued to move his body and push his body off the ground in 25 an attempt to stand up while the five deputies – Ibarra, Hinson, Miranda, Levesque and 26 Bilton – tried to secure Allen in handcuffs. [UF 28]

27 1. Ibarra's Use Of Force

28 Once Ibarra initially lost control of Allen's arm, he wrapped his arms around

MANNING & KASS

1 Allen's body to prevent being punched or kicked. [UF 29] Ibarra's head was pinned 2 against Allen's chest and Ibarra tried to pull Allen to the ground. [UF 30] Allen grabbed 3 Ibarra's head. [UF 31] Ibarra tried to maintain his arms around Allen's body in attempts 4 to control Allen, who was continuously moving. [UF 32] When Ibarra was able to get 5 his head from under Allen's arm, he positioned himself behind Allen and again wrapped 6 his arms around Allen's body to try to pull Allen down. [UF 33]

7 Once Allen was on the ground, Ibarra got on top of Allen's back and tried to 8 reach for Allen's arms to secure them. Allen continued to resist Ibarra's efforts to 9 restrain him by tucking his arms underneath his body and pushing his body off the 10 ground. [UF 34] Ibarra was unable to secure Allen's arms. [UF 35]

11 2. Hinson's Use Of Force

12 When Allen pulled his arm free from Hinson's hold, Hinson put his hand over 13 Allen's eyes, in an attempt to distract Allen and gain compliance. Allen continued to 14 fight Hinson. [UF 36] When Allen grabbed Ibarra's head, it appeared to Hinson that 15 Allen was trying to force Ibarra to the floor. Hinson perceived that Allen had just 16 assaulted Ibarra. [UF 37] Hinson attempted to turn Allen towards him to prevent Allen 17 from forcing Ibarra to the floor. [UF 38] Allen reached for Hinson's arm and was 18 pushing Hinson off. Hinson believed Allen was trying to assault him. [UF 39] Hinson 19 grabbed Allen's arm and tried to pull Allen to the ground, but Hinson was unable to as 20 Allen continuously pulled away from Hinson. [UF 40] Allen was moving his arms in 21 such a way that made Hinson believe Allen was going to strike him and Ibarra. Hinson 22 punched Allen approximately seven times in the face with his right hand. [UF 41]

23 After Allen was taken to the ground, Hinson instructed Allen to stop moving and 24 to place his hands behind his back. Allen refused by keeping his arms tucked 25 underneath his body. Allen tried to push himself off the ground and Hinson punched 26 Allen five more times to the left side of his face. [UF 42] Hinson perceived his punches 27 were effective in getting Allen to stop pushing his body up and Hinson was able to 28 reach under Allen's body and grab Allen's right arm to put it behind his back. [UF 43]

1 3. Levesque's Use Of Force

2 When Levesque looked around the corner into the Housing Unit 17 hallway, he 3 saw Ibarra and Hinson fighting with an inmate (Allen). Allen appeared to be on top of 4 Ibarra. [UF 44] Levesque ran down the Housing Unit 17 hallway and grabbed Allen's 5 right arm. Levesque tried to get Allen to the ground but he was unable to restrain Allen.
 6 [UF 45]

7 Once Allen was on the floor, Levesque feared Allen may have a weapon as Allen 8 had his arms tucked under his torso and did not comply with orders to place his hands 9 behind his back. Levesque punched Allen approximately five times in the right hip in 10 an attempt to gain compliance. [UF 46]

11 When Ibarra rolled onto Allen's back, blocking Allen's hip, Levesque moved 12 down to control Allen's feet and grabbed Allen's ankles. [UF 47] Allen began to kick 13 his feet towards Levesque. To make Allen stop kicking, Levesque punched Allen's calf 14 approximately five times. [UF 48]

15 When Levesque looked up from Allen's feet, Ibarra was still on Allen's back 16 struggling to gain control of Allen who was still moving his body. Allen and Ibarra 17 rolled onto their right sides. Levesque saw Hinson struggling to move Allen's arm 18 behind Allen's back, and Levesque punched Allen approximately seven to ten times in 19 the abdomen to gain compliance. [UF 49] Allen continued to resist the deputy's efforts 20 to place his arms behind his back, and Levesque punched Allen an additional five to ten 21 times in the abdomen. [UF 50] Levesque did not apply any force after Allen was 22 secured in handcuffs. [UF 51]

23 4. Bilton's Use Of Force

24 When Bilton saw Ibarra and Hinson struggling to control an inmate (Allen), 25 Bilton perceived Allen to be big and strong as Allen had two deputies in a position of 26 disadvantage. Allen had his hands on top of Ibarra's head and was pulling downward 27 while Hinson was trying to pull Allen away from Ibarra. [UF 52]

28 Bilton responded by grabbing Allen's right wrist and arm, and attempted to pull

1 Allen to the floor. [UF 53] After Allen was taken to the floor, Bilton gave Allen 2 commands to place his hands behind his back. Allen did not place his hands behind his 3 back. Allen continued to move and push his body off the ground. After several seconds, 4 Bilton was able to pin Allen's right arm to the floor but had difficulty maintaining 5 control of Allen's arm as Allen was fighting to get away. [UF 54]

6 5. Miranda's Use Of Force

7 When Miranda responded to the Housing Unit 17 hallway, she saw an inmate 8 (Allen) had his hands on Ibarra's head and neck while Hinson was pulling Allen away 9 from Ibarra. [UF 55] Miranda heard Allen yelling profanities, such as "Fuck you", at 10 Hinson and Ibarra as Allen fought them. [UF 56]

11 Miranda grabbed Allen's left shoulder and wrist and attempted to pull Allen to 12 the ground. [UF 57] After Allen was taken to the ground, Miranda placed her body 13 weight on Allen's left arm. Allen continued to resist Miranda's efforts to restrain him by 14 moving and pushing his body off the ground. Miranda pressed one foot against the wall 15 to brace herself and to try to maintain control of Allen's arm. Miranda eventually placed 16 Allen in handcuffs. [UF 58]

17 6. Pearson's Use Of Force

18 Pearson responded to the Housing Unit 17 hallway after a radio call was 19 broadcasted requesting additional deputies regarding a staff involved use of force.
 20 When he arrived at the scene, Pearson saw several deputies attempting to control an 21 inmate (Allen). Pearson assisted Miranda with gaining control of Allen's left arm and 22 placing Allen's hand into the handcuff. [UF 59]

23 7. Rodriguez's Use Of Force

24 Rodriguez did not participate in restraining Allen during the incident in the 25 Housing Unit 17 hallway. [UF 60]

26 D. Once Handcuffed, Allen Taken To The Medical Office

27 After Allen was secured in handcuffs, no force was applied. He was immediately 28 escorted to the Intake Medical Office. [UF 61] While at the Medical Office, Nurse

1 Charlin Garcia attempted to examine Allen, who had bruising and bleeding in his facial 2 area. Nurse Garcia, along with another nurse, cleaned Allen's face and eyes and 3 checked Allen's range of motion, which was determined to be good. [UF 62] While in 4 the Medical Office, Allen was uncooperative and refused care. He would not sit up to 5 have his vitals taken and would not answer questions. [UF 63]

6 Due to Allen's behavior, he was placed in an Emergency Restraint Chair and 7 placed in a sobering cell. Approximately, thirty minutes after Allen was placed in the 8 ERC and placed in the sobering cell, he was reevaluated. [UF 64]

9 While in the sobering cell, periodic safety checks were conducted on Allen. He 10 was later taken to the hospital for further examination. [UF 65] Allen sustained bruises
 11 and swelling. There is no evidence Allen sustained any serious physical injuries. [UF 12 66]

13 E. Allen Did Not File Grievances Against Miranda, Levesque, Bilton, Pearson and Rodriguez

15 RCSD has a grievance procedure. Allen did not file a grievance against Miranda, 16 Levesque, Bilton, Pearson and Rodriguez concerning the May 26, 2018 incident. [UF 17 67]

18 3. SUMMARY JUDGMENT STANDARD

19 Summary judgment is appropriate if the "pleadings, depositions, answers to 20 interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that 21 there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to 22 judgment as a matter of law." Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c). A fact is material when it affects 23 the outcome of the case. Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986).

24 The moving party bears the initial burden of demonstrating the absence of any genuine 25 issues of material fact. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323. (1986). Once the 26 moving party has satisfied this burden, the nonmoving party cannot rest on the mere 27 allegations or denials of his pleading, but must "go beyond the pleadings and by her 28 own affidavits, or by the 'depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on 1 file' designate 'specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial.'" Id. at 324.

 2 If the non-moving party fails to make a sufficient showing of an element of its case, the 3 moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Id. at 325.

4. THE DEFENDANT DEPUTIES APPLIED FORCE IN A GOOD FAITH
EFFORT TO MAINTAIN AND RESTORE DISCIPLINE AND ORDER

6 The Court's excessive force analysis begins with identification of the specific 7 constitutional right allegedly infringed by the use of force. Graham, 490 U.S. at 393.
 8 Plaintiff's status determines the standard by which his excessive force claim is 9 evaluated. Id.; Kramer v. Gutierrez, 2019 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 124557, *4, fn. 1 (N.D.
 10 Cal. Jul. 25, 2019). Although Plaintiff alleges defendants violated his Fourth and 11 Fourteenth Amendment rights when they used excessive force against him, plaintiff's 12 claim does not rest on the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments because plaintiff was a 13 convicted prisoner at the time of the incident. Plaintiff's claim rests on the Eighth 14 Amendment. See Gibson v. Cty. of Washoe, 290 F.3d 1175, 1187 (9th Cir. 2002) (court 15 confirms Eighth Amendment applies after plaintiff has been convicted of a crime); 16 Hudson, 503 U.S. at 6-7; Boyd v. Cty. of Riverside, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1580683, 17 *22 (C.D. Cal. Sep. 7, 2016); Graham, 490 U.S. at 395, n. 10 (excessive force against 18 an arrestee while detained in custody post-arrest but pre-arrangement is analyzed under 19 the Fourth Amendment while post-arrangement pretrial detainees are protected by the 20 Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.)

21 For an excessive force claim brought by a prisoner under the Eighth Amendment, 22 the core judicial inquiry is "whether force was applied in a good-faith effort to maintain 23 or restore discipline, or maliciously and sadistically to cause harm." Hudson, 503 U.S.
 24 at 6-7. In conducting this inquiry, a court may evaluate the following factors: (1) the 25 need for application of force, (2) the relationship between that need and the amount of 26 force used, (3) the threat reasonably perceived by the responsible officials, (4) any 27 efforts made to temper the severity of a forceful response, and (5) the extent of injury 28 suffered by an inmate. Id.

1 A. The Need For Application Of Force

2 The Supreme Court has recognized that "'running a prison is an inordinately 3 difficult undertaking.'" Kingsley, 135 S. Ct. at 2474, quoting Turner v. Safley, 482 U.S.
 4 78, 84-85 (1987). "Officers facing disturbances 'are often forced to make split-second 5 judgments – in circumstances that are tense, uncertain, and rapidly evolving.'" Id., 6 quoting Graham, 490 U.S. at 397. Here, the uncontested facts demonstrate that 7 Allen was a non-compliant, high level inmate who aggressively and violently resisted 8 the defendants' efforts to restrain him. Allen appeared intent on assaulting Ibarra and 9 Hinson when he pulled his arms free from their hold, grabbed Ibarra's head while 10 pushing Hinson who was trying to prevent plaintiff from harming Ibarra. Allen 11 appeared intent in fighting and hurting the deputies as he resisted the efforts of five 12 deputies to take him down.

13 B. The Relationship Between The Need And Amount Of Force Used

14 In Hudson, the Supreme Court explained that "not ... every malevolent touch by 15 a prison guard gives rise to a federal cause of action" and that the "Eighth Amendment's 16 prohibition of 'cruel and unusual' punishments necessarily excludes from constitutional 17 recognition de minimis uses of physical force, provided that the use of force is not of a 18 sort 'repugnant to the conscience of mankind'." Hudson, 503 U.S. at 9-10, quoting 19 Whitley v. Albers, 475 U.S. 312, 327 (1986).

20 Here, no force was applied against Allen until he engaged in active physical 21 resistance to the deputies' efforts to restrain him. No strikes or punches were delivered 22 against Allen until after he had assaulted Ibarra and Hinson, and appeared intent on 23 continuing to harm Ibarra, Hinson and other deputies. [UF 18-23] The uncontested 24 facts show that despite Allen's physical resistance to Ibarra and Hinson's attempts to 25 restrain him, by first turning aggressively towards Hinson and attempting to pull his 26 arm away from Hinson after he was told to walk to the wall, by pushing his body and 27 moving away from the wall, by continuously pulling his arms away from Ibarra's and 28 Hinson's hold, Ibarra and Hinson did not strike or punch Allen. Id. They merely pushed

1 Allen against the wall to gain control of Allen. See Ackley v. Carroll, 2011 U.S. Dist.
 2 LEXIS 58323, *22 (E.D. Cal., June 1, 2011) (pushing inmate against a wall and kicking 3 his leg during pat-down search was a de minimis use of force that was not "repugnant to 4 the conscience of mankind" and was not actionable under the Eighth Amendment).

5 The punches later delivered by Hinson came after Allen grabbed Ibarra's head 6 and Allen was moving his arms in such a way that Hinson perceived Allen was going to 7 strike him and Ibarra. [UF 37-41] They were not applied with a malicious and sadistic 8 intent to injure. While Allen was on the ground, he continued to actively resist the 9 deputies' efforts to restrain him. [UF 26-28] Allen tucked his arms underneath his body 10 and refused to comply with commands and efforts to pull his arm out to secure him in 11 handcuffs. Fearful that Allen may have had a weapon, Hinson and Levesque delivered 12 punches against Allen to gain compliance. [UF 46]

13 C. The Threat Reasonably Perceived By The Responsible Officials

14 As stated above, Allen was non-compliant and aggressively engaged in active 15 physical resistance to efforts to restrain him. Allen physically fought Ibarra and Hinson 16 before they were able to conduct their pat search for weapons. Allen was able to gain 17 physical advantage over Ibarra and Hinson when he was able to move away from the 18 wall and pull his arms free from their hold.

19 When Miranda, Levesque and Bilton responded to the scene, they saw Allen with 20 his hands on Ibarra, as if pulling Ibarra down, and Hinson struggling with Allen. The 21 defendants reasonably perceived that Allen was a threat to their safety and the safety of 22 other staff and inmates.

23 D. Any Efforts To Temper The Severity Of A Forceful Response

24 As stated above, Ibarra and Hinson attempted to push Allen against the wall to 25 gain control of him. When Ibarra lost control of Allen's arm, he wrapped his arms 26 around Allen's body to try to pull him down. When Hinson lost control of Allen's arm, 27 he put his hand over Allen's eyes to distract Allen and gain control. Allen pushed 28 Hinson away and Hinson tried to grab Allen and pull him down.

MANNING & KASS

1 Ibarra, Hinson, Miranda, Bilton, and Levesque used their body weight to push 2 Allen to the ground to restrain him.

3 E. The Extent Of Injury Suffered By Allen

4 Allen sustained bruises and swelling to his eyes. There is no evidence Allen 5 suffered any serious physical injuries from the May 26, 2018 incident.

6 The uncontested facts show force was necessary to maintain or restore order, 7 and was not applied maliciously and sadistically to cause harm. Courts have found that 8 "[d]eference is to be given to the quick decisions officers must make when responding 9 to a confrontation with 'riotous inmates.' [Citation.]" Grant v. Palomares, 2014 U.S.
 10 Dist. LEXIS 16748, *36-37. In Grant, the district court found there was no Eighth 11 Amendment violation as to plaintiff's allegation of excessive force when defendant 12 body slammed plaintiff to the pavement as undisputed facts showed "defendant was 13 acting to prevent an escalation" and "[the] record demonstrates that there was a 14 reasonably perceived threat plaintiff might incite other inmates to act out, and the 15 undisputed facts reflect that plaintiff escalated the incident from verbally expressing his 16 displeasure to arguing with defendant, and continuing to refuse to comply with 17 defendant's orders."

18 Similarly, Ibarra reasonably perceived Allen might incite other inmates to act 19 out, so he had Allen step out of the dayroom where he could speak to Allen out of the 20 view of other inmates. Allen escalated the incident from refusing to comply with 21 routine procedures of placing his hands behind his back and walking to the red line 22 when ordered and then physically resisting efforts to restrain him to assaulting Ibarra 23 and attempting to assault Hinson. "The court must be deferential when force is 24 legitimately used to maintain or restore security and order." Grant, supra, at *49. "[A]n 25 inmate refusing to comply with orders presents a threat to the safety of other inmates 26 and prison security." Boyd v. Cty. of Riverside, supra, at *41.

27 In Boyd, supra, the facts are similar to the present case, where plaintiff was 28 combative and continued to resist and physically assault the officers. The court found

ELLROD, RAMIREZ, TRESTER LLP
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

1 that

2 "the circumstances surrounding the subsequent application of force 3 applied while attempting to restrain and handcuff plaintiff, - i.e., four or 4 five punches, kneeing 'more than a few times,' grabbing, and pulling and 5 knocking to the floor – do not give rise to an inference that [the officer] 6 applied force maliciously and sadistically for the very purpose of causing 7 harm. When the officers swarmed on plaintiff, plaintiff began yelling, 8 pushing, and 'fight[ing]' the officers off of him. Plaintiff's decision to 9 resist the officers' efforts to restrain him and to actively assault the 10 officers, created the need for the application of additional force to subdue 11 plaintiff. The officers reasonably perceived plaintiff as posing a threat 12 not only because he had obscured himself and refused to respond to 13 verbal commands, but also because of his assaultive response. Plaintiff 14 continued to resist and physically assault the officers while they 15 attempted to restrain and handcuff him, and physically resisted and 16 refused to stand up even after he was handcuffed. ... On these facts, the 17 force that [the officer] applied was neither unreasonable nor indicative of 18 a malicious and sadistic intent to solely cause harm to plaintiff."

19 Id. at 43-44.

20 Similarly, Allen's decision to resist the defendants' efforts to restrain him, by 21 physically fighting Ibarra and Hinson, by tucking his arms underneath his body while 22 on the ground and attempting to stand up after he was taken to the ground, created the 23 need for the application of additional force to subdue him. None of the force applied 24 was unreasonable nor indicative of a malicious and sadistic intent solely to cause harm
 25 to Allen. The defendants did not violate Allen's Eighth Amendment right to be free 26 from cruel and unusual punishment.

27 F. Plaintiff's Use Of Force Was Objectively Reasonable

28 Even if the Court analyzes Allen's claim under the Fourteenth Amendment as

1 alleged by Allen, there is still no constitutional violation. As stated in Boyd, 2 "[r]egardless of which standard applies, it is clear that '[n]ot every push or shove, even 3 if it may later seem unnecessary in the peace of a judge's chambers' violates the 4 Constitution's proscriptions on excessive force." Boyd, at *29, quoting Johnson v.
 5 Glick, 481 F.2d 1028, 1033 (9th Cir. 1973), overruled in part on other grounds by 6 Graham, 490 U.S. at 397.

7 Notably, the factors that courts consider in analyzing the reasonableness of the 8 force used under the Fourteenth Amendment is similar as to the factors set forth for 9 Eighth Amendment claims: (1) the relationship between the need for the use of force 10 and the amount of force used; (2) the extent of the plaintiff's injury; (3) any effort made 11 by the officer to temper or limit the amount of force; (4) the severity of the security 12 problem at issue; (5) the threat reasonably perceived by the officer; and (6) whether the 13 plaintiff was actively resisting. See Kingsley v. Hendrickson, 576 U.S. ___, 135 S. Ct.
 14 2466, 2473 (2015) (Fourteenth Amendment excessive force claim requires the court to 15 consider whether "the force purposely or knowingly used was objectively 16 unreasonable"), citing Graham, 490 U.S. at 396.

17 Here, the uncontested facts demonstrate that Allen was actively resisting and 18 posed a severe security issue. Defendants used objectively reasonable force under the 19 totality of the circumstances.

20 G. Plaintiff Failed To Exhaust Administrative Remedies

21 Plaintiff failed to exhaust his administrative remedies under the Prison Litigation
 22 Reform Act as to Miranda, Levesque, Bilton, Rodriguez and Pearson. The PLRA 23 requires exhaustion of administrative remedies for all "action[s] ... brought with respect 24 to prison conditions under [42 U.S.C. § 1983], or any other Federal law, by a prisoner 25 confined in any jail, prison, or other correctional facility. ..." 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a).
 26 "[T]he PLRA's exhaustion requirement applies to all inmate suits about prison life, 27 whether they involve general circumstances or particular episodes, and whether they 28 allege excessive force or some other wrong." Porter v. Nussle, 534 U.S. 516, 532. The

1 PLRA's exhaustion requirement is mandatory. Jones v. Bock, 549 U.S. 199, 211. Here, 2 the RCSD has a grievance procedure. Plaintiff did not file grievances against Miranda, 3 Levesque, Bilton, Rodriguez and Pearson regarding the May 26, 2018 incident.

4 H. Plaintiff's Allegations Of Denial Of Medical Care

5 Plaintiff did not bring a separate cause of action for his allegations that he was 6 denied medical care. Rather, plaintiff improperly includes the allegations in his first 7 claim for excessive force. To the extent the court considers plaintiff's allegations, 8 defendants are nonetheless entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

9 To establish a constitutional violation under the Eighth Amendment due to 10 inadequate medical care, plaintiff must show "deliberate indifference" by prison 11 officials to a "serious medical need." Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 104. Deliberate 12 indifference to a prisoner's medical needs is defined by the Court as the "unnecessary 13 and wanton infliction of pain." Id. Here, the uncontested facts demonstrate that 14 plaintiff was taken to the Medical Office immediately after the incident. There is no 15 evidence that plaintiff suffered any serious physical injuries.

16 5. THE DEPUTIES ARE ENTITLED TO QUALIFIED IMMUNITY

17 Assuming for the sake of argument that the court does find Allen's constitutional 18 rights were violated, all individual defendants are entitled to qualified immunity.
 19 "Qualified immunity protects government officials from civil liability if 'their conduct 20 does not violate clearly established statutory or constitutional rights of which a 21 reasonable person would have known.'" Franklin v. Fox, 312 F.3d 423, 437, quoting 22 Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 800, 818 (1982); see also Pearson v. Callahan, 555 23 U.S. 223, 231 (2009). Qualified immunity is essentially a question of law "and is 24 appropriately made on summary judgment where the underlying facts are undisputed." 25 Fox, 312 F.3d at 437.

26 The law alleged to have been violated must be tailored to the specific 27 circumstances and not a high level of generality. Ashcroft v. al-Kidd, 563 U.S. 731, 742 28 [131 S.Ct. 2074, 179 L.Ed.2d 1149] (2011). "The general proposition, for example that

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

1 an unreasonable search or seizure violates the Fourth Amendment is of little help in 2 determining whether the violative nature of particular conduct is clearly established." 3 Ashcroft at 742. The relevant question for qualified immunity is whether existing 4 precedent established "beyond debate" that the officer's actions were unreasonable, 5 based on the specific circumstances of the alleged violation. Mullenix v. Luna, 136
 6 S.Ct. 305, 309 (2015); Ashcroft, 563 U.S. at 741; Anderson v. Creighton, 483 U.S. 635, 7 640 (1987). "If the law at that time did not clearly establish that the officer's conduct 8 would violate the Constitution, the officer should not be subject to liability or, indeed, 9 even the burdens of litigation." Brosseau v. Haugen, 543 U.S. 194, 198 (2004); see also 10 Fox at 437; Ashcroft at 743. Therefore, it must be determined if the law was clearly 11 established. Fox at 437.

12 In determining whether the law was clearly established, recent case law dictates 13 that there must be case law on sufficiently similar facts to provide notice of the 14 violation being committed. White v. Pauly, 137 S.Ct. 548, 552 (2017); S.B. v. Cnty. Of 15 San Diego, 2017 U.S. App. LEXIS 8452 at p. *15 (9th Cir. 2017). There is no case 16 precedent which would put any defendant on notice that they were violating any law.
 17 The force applied on Allen by the defendants was necessary and applied in a good-faith 18 effort to maintain and restore discipline and order. Hudson, 503 U.S. at 6-7; Boyd v.
 19 Cty. of Riverside, supra, at *41-44. The force was also objectively reasonable. Id. There 20 is no indication that any defendant would have known of a constitutional violation, 21 thereby entitling them to qualified immunity.

22 6. THE MONELL CLAIMS LACK MERIT AS A MATTER OF LAW

23 Plaintiff has alleged a Monell cause of action against the County under 42 U.S.C.
 24 § 1983. Plaintiff has failed to show an underlying constitutional violation and therefore 25 there can be no Monell liability. City of Los Angeles v. Heller, 475 U.S. 796, 799 26 (1986).

27 Notwithstanding the lack of constitutional violation, plaintiff has also failed to 28 support his unlawful custom allegation with any evidence. Plaintiff never went beyond

1 the conclusory allegations in his First Amended Complaint. This is insufficient for 2 Monell liability.

3 "Plaintiffs who seek to impose liability on local governments under § 1983 must 4 prove that 'action pursuant to official municipal policy' caused their injury. Official 5 municipal policy includes the decisions of a government's lawmakers, the acts of its 6 policymaking officials, and practices so persistent and widespread as to practically have 7 the force of law." Connick v. Thompson, 563 U.S. 51, 60 [131 S.Ct. 1350, 179 L.Ed.2d 8 417] (2011) [internal citation omitted]. It requires a three part inquiry: 1) it must be 9 shown that there is an unconstitutional policy, 2) which can be attributed to a policy 10 maker, and 3) that policy is the cause of the harm to plaintiff. Oklahoma City v. Tuttle, 11 471 U.S. 808, 824 [105 S.Ct. 2427, 85 L.Ed.2d 791] (1985).

12 A public entity can be held liable under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 for a failure to train, if 13 the failure to train, or failure to provide a different kind of training, causes a 14 constitutional violation, and the failure to do so amounts to deliberate indifference to 15 the rights of individuals with whom those employees come into contact. City of Canton 16 v. Harris, 489 U.S. 378, 388-389 [109 S.Ct. 1197, 103 L.Ed.2d 412] (1989); Young v.
 17 City of Visalia, 687 F.Supp.2d 1141, 1148 (2009). "Deliberate indifference is a 18 stringent standard of fault, requiring proof that a municipal actor disregarded a known 19 or obvious consequence of his action." Connick, 563 U.S. at 61. Any lesser 20 requirement would result in de facto respondeat superior liability. Id. In order to show 21 a policy of deliberate indifference, it must be shown that there is a pattern of similar 22 constitutional violations by untrained employees. Connick, 563 U.S. at 62.

23 There are no official written policies alleged as unconstitutional, but rather 24 plaintiff alleges that the unconstitutional acts of defendants were violations of their own 25 policies. This concession of constitutional policies then requires plaintiff to support his 26 "custom" allegations with evidence of multiple, similar past incidents – thereby 27 demonstrating official knowledge and tacit approval of a wrongful course of conduct by 28 municipal employees. Rodriguez v. Avita, 871 F.2d 552, 555 (5th Cir. 1989); Oklahoma

1 v. Tuttle, 471 U.S. at 823-824. "Liability for improper custom may not be predicated on 2 isolated or sporadic incidents; it must be founded upon practices of sufficient duration, 3 frequency and consistency that the conduct has become a traditional method of carrying 4 out policy." Trevino v. Gates, 99 F.3d 911, 918 (9th Cir. 1996) [internal citations 5 omitted]. Plaintiff's allegation of "unconstitutional" violations in the Gray and Garcia 6 case, based on the pleadings filed on those cases, is not enough.

7 The court has found as many as 12 specific instances to be insufficient to 8 establish a pattern of purposes of municipal liability. See Hamilton v. Rogers, 791 F.2d 9 439, 443 (5th Cir. 1986) (12 incidents of racial employment incidents in two and-a-half 10 years insufficient to show pattern for purposes of civil rights laws); Carter v. District of 11 Columbia, 795 F.2d 116, 123-124 (D.C. Cir. 1986) (11 prior incidents of use of force, 12 insufficient to show pervasive pattern of tacit approval); Sloman v. Tadlock, 21 F.3d 13 1462 (9th Cir. 1994) (habitual harassment of a plaintiff by one officer, insufficient to 14 demonstrate a widespread misconduct of police force as a matter of law). In the absence 15 of an overwhelming showing of numerous prior similar incidents – numerous other 16 citizens – a § 1983 plaintiff proceeding on a tacit, wrongful 'custom' theory fails to 17 make a prima facie case against a governmental entity.

18 Notwithstanding the lack of a constitutional violation, plaintiff fails to show any 19 pattern or practice of violations. Young, 687 F.Supp.2d at 1149-1150. Therefore, 20 plaintiff cannot establish a viable Monell claim against the County.

21 7. PLAINTIFF'S STATE LAW CLAIMS LACK MERIT

22 A. Negligence And Battery

23 A battery claim and state negligence claim based on an excessive force theory are 24 measured under the reasonableness standard of the Fourth Amendment. See Carter v.
 25 City of Carlsbad, 799 F. Supp. 2d 1147, 1164 (S.D. Cal. 2011); Atkinson v. Cty of 26 Tulare, 790 F. Supp. 2d 1188, 1211 (E.D. 2011). Accordingly, plaintiff's state claims 27 fail for the same reasons that plaintiff's federal claim fails.

28 Plaintiff's allegation that defendants were negligent in failing to summon medical

MANNING & KASS

1 care similarly lacks merit as the uncontested facts show that plaintiff was escorted to 2 the Medical Office immediately after the incident.

3 Moreover, to the extent plaintiff's negligence claim against the County is based 4 on his allegations of failure to train or supervise, it is well-settled that a claim against a 5 law enforcement or prosecuting agency based on negligent failure to train or supervise 6 are "not cognizable under California law." Menjivar v. City of Los Angeles, 2007 WL
 7 4662062, *12 (C.D. Cal. 2007) (citing Munoz v. City of Union City, 120 Cal.App.4th 8 1077, 1112-1113 (2004).

9 B. Intentional Infliction Of Emotional Distress

10 To have a cause of action for intentional infliction of emotional distress, it must 11 be shown that "(1) extreme and outrageous conduct by the defendant[s] with the 12 intention of causing, or reckless disregard of the probability of causing, emotional 13 distress; (2) the plaintiff suffering severe or extreme emotional distress; and (3) actual 14 and proximate causation of the emotional distress by the defendants['] outrageous 15 conduct." Tekle v. United States, 511 F.3d 839, 855 (9th Cir. 2007), quoting Davidson 16 v. City of Westminster, 32 Cal.3d 197 (1982). Outrageous conduct is conduct which is 17 so extreme that it exceeds all bounds of what is tolerated by civilized society. Id. There 18 is no evidence of outrageous conduct at any point in the incident.

19 C. Cal. Civ. Code § 52.1 – Bane Act

20 California Civil Code section 52.1 prohibits "a person or persons, whether or not 21 acting under color of law, [from] interfer[ing] by threats, intimidation, or coercion, or 22 [from] attempt[ing] to interfere by threats, intimidation, or coercion, with the exercise 23 or enjoyment by any individual or individuals of rights secured by the Constitution or 24 laws of the United States, or of the rights secured by the Constitution or laws of this 25 state ..." Cal. Civ. Code § 52.1(a). Thus, to prevail on a Bane Act claim, a plaintiff 26 must demonstrate, inter alia, "intimidation, threats, or coercion."

27 Plaintiff's Bane Act claim is based on the allegations of excessive force and 28 denial of medical care. As argued above, the uncontested facts demonstrate that

1 defendants' use of force was objectively reasonable under the totality of the 2 circumstances and that plaintiff was not denied necessary medical care.

3 Plaintiff's allegation that defendants interfered with his right to file grievances, 4 defend himself in a criminal prosecution and the right not to be discriminated against 5 on account of one's race all lack merit. The uncontested evidence shows plaintiff 6 filed grievances after the incident. Prior to the incident, plaintiff had been found guilty 7 of felony offenses by a jury. There is no evidence plaintiff was discriminated against 8 based on his race.

9 8. EVIDENCE DOES NOT SUPPORT PLAINTIFF'S CLAIM FOR 10 PUNITIVE DAMAGES

11 Defendants are entitled to summary judgment as to plaintiff's punitive damages 12 claim because there is no evidence that the defendants acted with malice, oppression, or 13 reckless disregard toward plaintiff's rights. Dang v. Cross, 422 F.3d 800, 810 (9th Cir.
 14 2005); 9th Cir. Model Jury Instr. 5.5 (2007). Plaintiff has disclosed no evidence that the 15 defendants acted with malice, oppression, or reckless disregard toward plaintiff. The 16 evidence is actually contrary to that assertion. Defendants applied force in good faith 17 effort to maintain and restore discipline and order. There is no evidence of evil intent.

18 9. CONCLUSION

19 In light of all of the foregoing, the Court should grant summary judgment for 20 defendants on all claims.
